on white, lace on satin

Michele Priestman from Occasions in Gillitts near Durban created this magnificent modern white on white theme, which is very popular with modern brides. There are many different shades of white which, when combined with crystal, pearls and shades of silver, set the scene for a gentle yet sophisticated decor style. Styling by Michele Priestman. Photography by Dean Demos.

Brides can incorporate detail from their wedding dresses to the icing detail on their wedding cakes, which adds glamour and interest to a simple white iced cake. Beads and ribbon in the same colour theme can be used to tie around the linen serviettes as well as the stems of bouquets. Three different types of flowers have been used to create interest with depth, shape and texture. The silver plate charger, white crockery and cherub create an elegant base to add the rest of the decor used to create a lovely table setting. Glassware gleams in the candlelight.

Handcrafted paper flowers adorn the magnolia inspired menu and invitations, which are embellished with diamante and ribbon accents. Modern romantic three-tier dot and rose white cake created by Jen Kemp.

Wedding gift boxes in all shapes and sizes, tied with a beautiful ribbon and perhaps a flower or a strand of pearls, hint of the lovely gift inside. Lush and lovely peony bridal bouquet tied with white satin and tulle, with bling detail, complements the understated yet glamorous theme. Create areas of interest and a serene, interesting table setting to keep your guests talking for months and months after your wedding. An all-white theme is a great opportunity to use lots of creative detail, as your senses are not overwhelmed by an explosion of colour. Spray your favourite perfume liberally to add to the romance.
